Week 1:

“And it is impossible to please God without faith. Anyone who wants to come to Him must believe that God exists and that He rewards those who sincerely seek Him.” – Hebrew 11:6

Sports commentators have an opinion about every play in a game. Whether the play was good or bad, commentators watch closely and talk about what happened. Maybe a player didn't show enough effort or the player did the best move ever done. Commentators talk a lot, but they do no impact the game because they are no competing.

Faith in God is like an athlete playing in a game. They know the purpose, rules, move of the game. As they play the game, the athlete reacts to ever play and works hard to win the game.

A person's faith must include both believing God and seeking Him. It is not enough to just say that you believe that God exists. That would be like a commentator hoping to receive a championship trophy. Instead, a person needs to grow in their knowledge of God while they continue to live for God. Stayin in the game is where faith happens. This is what makes faith strong.

>GO

How is your faith in God?

Do you believe the God exists?

If you seek God with you whole heart, how would your life change?

What are some ways you could seek Him more?

>OVERTIME

God, help me to believe in You more and to seek You with my whole heart. I desire my faith to be strong. Amen.
